David

Jackson

Partner – Accounting, Audit and Taxation Services

David is the senior partner of Hospitality & Strata Pty Ltd and has extensive experience in both business advisory and audit services.

David operates from the Gold Coast office and advises clients throughout Queensland and other parts of Australia.

Specialty areas include accounting and business advisory services, audit and due diligence, investment and taxation services. His involvement in the construction, property and tourism sectors began in 1981 when he founded the Deloitte Haskins & Sells office on the Gold Coast and began providing accounting and advisory services to Gold Coast businesses.

David has since gained broad experience in business advisory services for the management rights and hospitality sector and has been a regular presenter at tourism industry functions.

David's experience and extensive knowledge across a variety of industries are key assets when advising clients on business strategies, preparing business valuations, feasibilities, due diligence reports, and business structuring.
